DRUGGIST CALLED MEDICINE 'GOUGER'

Investigation of the Prices Charged by Retailers Indicated in Senate.

CALOMEL DUTY TREBLED

Committee Rate of 28 Cents on Vermilion Reds Is Adopted.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Retail druggists came under fire to-day in the Senate for what were described as exorbitant prices charged for medicines. Senator Smoot (Utah), Republican, predicted an investigation of prices was coming, and said that when it did the people would know the truth about who made the profits.

The attack on the druggists was made during debate on a committee recommendation that the present tariff duty of 15 per cent. ad valorem on calomel be tripled. Senator Smoot declared that if this medicine were placed on the free list there wouldn't be any reduction in the price by the retailers.

Remarking there was no doubt the druggists were charging excessive prices Senator Norris (Neb.), Republican, said he did not wish to be an instrumentalist of Government that would put the druggist in a position where he could justify the prices he charged.

"It probably would be better to place this necessary medicine on the free list," Senator Norris said.

"We cannot reach the druggist who charges these exorbitant prices but we can take away from him the argument for that price."

Senator Hitchcock (Neb., Dem.) said if Congress wished the druggists to reduce their prices it would have to do its part first by reducing the duties on medicines.

Senator Simmons (N. C., Dem.) said imports of calomel were exceedingly small, amounting in one year to as low as 120 pounds, whereas domestic consumption exceeded 1,000,000 pounds. He added that under the Payne-Aldrich bill, which carried a lower rate, the American producers had retained the domestic market.

Senator Smoot argued that the 45 per cent. rate was necessary compensation to the manufacturers of calomel because of the increased duty on quicksilver which had been voted by the Senate.

After rejecting 16 to 33 an amendment by Senator Simmons to continue the Underwood law duty of 15 per cent., the Senate approved the committee rate, 33 to 16.

The Senate also adopted, over sharp Democratic objection, the committee rate of 28 cents a pound on vermilion reds, a component of paint, in lieu of the House rate of 35 cents a pound after voting down, 31 to 18, a motion by Senator Simmons to retain the Underwood law rate of 15 per cent. ad valorem.

Senator McCumber said the committee rate amounted to 32 per cent. ad valorem, of which, he explained, 8 per cent. was for protection and 24 per cent. for compensation.

A new provision written into the tariff bill to-day carries a duty of 4 cents a pound on cassein or lactarin, a product of skimmed milk, used largely in coating paper. The duty was urged as necessary to foster the industry which was represented by Senator Ladd (Rep., N. D.) as being of importance to dairy farmers generally.

House Puts Farmer on Federal Reserve Board

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Holding the balance of power, the farm bloc in the House to-day turned down its own committee's recommendation and put through the Senate bill providing for eight instead of seven members of the Federal Reserve Board to assure representation of the agricultural interests.

BONUS PROMOTERS TO DRAFT NEW BILL

gations the Lloyd George Government has not communicated the fact to the United States.

No representatives have been appointed by the London Government to confer with the members of the Refunding Commission recently created by Congress. With every other door closed by the President and the Treasury Department, the bonus Senators nevertheless contend that the foreign debt can be used for financing that project and the President finally induced to sign the bill authorizing it.

It is probable therefore that any measure Mr. McCumber and his associates may produce in the next day or two will contemplate the use of the foreign debt regardless of objections raised by the President and Secretary Mellon, to say nothing of the Liberty Loan laws which direct the use of such repayments to retire domestic wartime obligations.

The sales tax suggested by the President to finance the bonus bill already has been rejected by the farm bloc. The President has repeatedly declared he will not countenance any scheme that imposes further taxation on the already overburdened people. Hence the probability is that regardless of the executive attitude the bill Mr. McCumber and his associates will start to work on to-morrow will be based on the use of the foreign debt.

Nightmare of Vote Hunters.

The big thing with the Senate is to get the bonus out of the way. It has become the pastime of Senators opposed to it and the nightmare of those who still labor under the delusion that the American Legion can control their individual political fortunes.

The Democrats, fully appreciating their partisan advantage, are doing the best they can to force their Republican colleagues to take up the bonus and jam it through the Senate. Democratic leaders have made one or two significant gestures during the last day or two which greatly alarmed the Republican Senators favoring the bonus scheme.

Predictions were made by Democratic Senators yesterday that they would take the initiative in retrieving the bonus bill from the Finance Committee unless the Republicans did so at once. This report inspired to some extent the decision of Mr. McCumber and his associates to make a final effort to agree upon and report a bill to the Senate.

The threat had the effect of arousing the Republican bonus Senators. Both sides in the controversy believe the Finance Committee will have some sort of a bonus bill ready by the end of the week and that there will be an effort to set the equally unpopular tariff bill aside to permit its consideration. Any move in this direction is certain to precipitate a conflict that will hold up the tariff bill for some time to come.

Republican and Democratic Senators opposed to the bonus have indicated their purpose to avail themselves of their Senatorial privileges and discuss the bonus without limitation as to time. Several Republicans who are opposed to the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill probably lend aid and comfort to the Democratic minority in keeping the bonus bill before the Senate as long as both physical and vocal endurance hold out.

CHANCELLOR DAY SEES REACTION FOR MODESTY

Makes His Final Chapel Address at Syracuse.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. SYRACUSE, May 23.—Dr. Roscoe Day made his last chapel address as Chancellor of Syracuse University before students of the College of Liberal Arts to-day. About three hundred students, the majority girls, heard him.

The Chancellor, nearly 76 years old, began by saying he was and always had been an optimist. He traced his early life from the lumber camps of the Northwest to the Maine city where he finally made his home.

"Great days," he called them. "In the old days," he said, "people of course averaged about as they do now. There were just as many mean cases and just as many honest, decent folk. But the old time was a day of extreme modesty. I think, though, a reaction is coming. There are some things that were better in the early days. Many things are not so good now, but something better is coming all the time."

"Woman has always had her way. She has always held her way in sweetness and charity. Much of man's badness has been blamed on woman. Personally, I have always had a great respect for Eve."

Why Your New FURNACE Should be a BOYNTON

The Square Fire Pot is a Coal-saver

BOYNTON fuel economy is partly explained by the Square Fire Pot—an exclusive Boynton feature.

A Square Pot keeps the sides of the fire free from ashes. Corrugations increase the radiating surface, which is the outside of the pot, and on the inside the hollows form passages through which the ashes slip to the pit. The square pot angles prevent ashes from sticking fast to shut off heat radiation.

Grate bars are all equal length—no short bars, as in round pots. These long bars smash clinkers completely.

We would like to explain other Boynton features to you personally. Bring your building plans along.

Jew Mania

The Inside Story of
Henry Ford's Second Folly

FROM peace ship to religious persecution! From great manufacturing achievements to hatching petty plots with a former tool of the dead Tsar! Up and down the scale—now tragic, now ludicrous—has blundered the misled mind of a genius. What strange exotic influences drew Henry Ford into this mad attack against an entire race? What was his organization? For the weird inside facts of this enterprise of ugly hatred and blind suspicions see Norman Hapgood's article in Hearst's INTERNATIONAL for June. See also Frazier Hunt on NEW IRELAND and five other articles of equal timeliness. And eight vital short stories and novels—stories that say something—stories that make the magazine fairly sparkle. All in Hearst's International—NEW SIZE—for June.

The Better Wife

by Gouverneur Morris

CAN a Bad Woman make a Good Wife? Could Mary Highland, snatched from the gutterside, become a loved and respected wife merely by obeying her husband?—see Gouverneur Morris' great new story "THE BETTER WIFE"—the sensational novel of 1922—just starting in the June issue.

Another thing you get in this number is a new installment of the greatest advertisement ever run in any magazine—the cooperative advertisement of 26,000 of the leading drug stores in America run as a SERIAL—a continued story from month to month. Advertisers and business men generally are watching this carefully. This month besides the story of "A Great Deal in Rubber" it contains also the photographs of ten charming Motion Picture and Dramatic Stars.

"Have FUN while you read; but KNOW something when you get through" is Editor Norman Hapgood's motto. Hearst's International is, therefore, worth a very great deal more than THIRTY-FIVE CENTS paid for it by people who don't care for a cheap magazine.
